Comments Hi, We had just ordered some screens for our home in Mexico, which arrived safely and we love them. We want to do one more door and want it shipped to our home in Massachusetts this time because we can bring it down later. We still have plenty of tracking from the other order, so no need to send more. Thanks! edie

Comments Hi
 We need two panels of the same size 24" by 46" and are unsure of the width of your material but feel that we should get two runs out of the 8ft length, does this seem right?

Comments We are planning on securing both ends of the panel to the vinyl siding surrounding our deck. We are unsure what will provide a better/more secure edge (velcro or tucking the fiberglass rod into the molding edge of the vinyl). We like to be able to choose the option that works best - therefore, is it possible to have you double stitch the loop-sided velcro to both sides without interfering with the ability to thread the fiberglass rod through it, as well? We'll be using the right end of the panel as our 'door' when needed, so we'd like some flexibility to use whatever ends up working best for us on a daily basis. (I hope that's not too confusing!) If it's not possible to stitch the velcro and allow for the rod placement, please feel free to omit the velcro stitching along the sides. Thank you so much!

Comments Please when you post this will you be sure you say that it is raw fabric and not [madeup] curtains? I got saddled with a big tax hit the last time I ordered and I am worried that if it is described as curtains Customs and Excise will add VAT plus plus!!
Thank you
Anne Murray-Smith

Comments we have a two sided exposure but want to do an outside hang - so we are doing an angle as one side the curtain will attach to the wall, then need to come out to the soffit 13" and take a 90 degree turn to to the outside of a column - then finally attach flat to siding. Also - we are assuming the curtain will fall and can be attached at the bottom with a marine snap

Comments I want to order one panel for the rear wall of my pavilion to check it out. I like the heavy netting but am worried about seeing the "stripes" that are visible in my sample when hit with direct sunlight. I will be using the marine snaps on all four sides, not velcro (seems a little less expensive). If this works out, I'll order the remaining three panels. thanks so much for the sample kit! The dimensions ordered should be the finished dimensions, correct? Also, does the price include the installation or the snaps, or do I do that myself? --JPK

Comments Also, Can I get a small piece of the heavy duty black so that I can patch a small hole that I accidentally put into the mesh. a piece that is 12" x 12" should help me with any patching that I may need for the life of the product. BTW, I love the stuff.

Comments two sided balcony. panel 1 is 21-9 and panel 2 is 17-1 wide. both panels are 101" tall. Panel 1 is straight across, panel 2 turns 90 degrees after 80 inches to meet the panel 1.
It's a surprise to my wife while she is out town next weekend. I was so happy to find your products- this will allow me to keep my garage roof access off the balcony. I was very close to installing permanent screens using Fast Lock from Screen tight. I'm so much happier with your concept, and I think it's going to look great too. You have a very nice website, by the way. after reading, i didn't really have any questions- it's all there. Look forward to the install:)

Comments just to make sure... Three sided porch with flat roof and sloped brick pavers.
panel 1 goes 1/2 across the porch and measures 111" tall. panel 2 goes the second half to a corner, across the porch to the next corner, and then back 1/2 of the third side towards the house. Starting at the end of panel 1 the ht its111".
It goes to 113" at the first corner, stays at 113" to the second corner, and then goes back to 111" at the end of panel 2. Do we need to make any adjustments to panel 2 or will a standard 113" work?

Comments Thanks! this will be outside the columns of a pergola, which is attached to the house. Panels will provide an opening at about 4' from the house wall on two sides. We have shade fabric on the top already. The curve is to avoid a window that's in-line with one of the sides, with panel sized to suit.

Comments Hi guys!
I'm very excited to be ordering my pannels from you - - but I have a question:
I couldn't enter correct heights for my pannels.
Both of them are 5'5.5" tall - or 65.5 inches (which isn't included in a height option). So, I just chose irregular, but I don't know what that means... So I was wondering if you would assure me that my height of my pannels will be correct?

Comments I have a few questions. We want to use a single panel across a covered patio with walls on 3 sides. The opening is 16'-5" wide by 90-1/2" high. I ordered 16"-10" wide by 91" high. Is that right? is there a drop with the track and slider?
I plan to use marine snaps on one end and magnets on the other end. Walls are tan colored. What is colored on the snaps? In photos, they look like plated metal.
What I'm thinking of doing on the end that will slide open is fasten a Hardie Trim 1 x 2 to the wall and drill holes for the round magnets to mate with magnets in the edging. Does that sound like it would work. We will have to go in/out through that opening.
Please call 281-890-7074 if we need to change the order.
Thanks, Rob Nixon

Comments I have a patio under a deck that is 2 sides open 16' x 8' with no breaks. Would like the tracking with a 90 degree angle and need to have both ends of the panel to have Velcro. The panel will be connecting on both ends to vinyl siding. I would think that Velcro would be the best way to mold the screen to the vinyl siding for a tight fit? or do you have another recommendation?
When ordering I did not see a way to add Velcro to both ends of the panel?
Please let me know if there is anything you may recommend.

Comments Kurt. This will be the last panel I need for this project, but I love the curtains and will be recommending them to my customers. These two curtains will make the "front door" and allow for a 1" overlap in the center of the walkway. I'll take and send some pictures when I get this last side up. Thanks-JPK

Comments We ordered curtains prviously yhst-66811115135782-9409. Need the additonal black marine snaps but don't need the tool, if it is a reduction in cost.
Way too windy here for the few marine snaps I installed. Love the curtains.....finally pest-free night air
